

Apply for the Washington Butterfly Association Idie Ulsh Young Naturalist Scholarship

Calling all nature enthusiasts 10-17 years old !

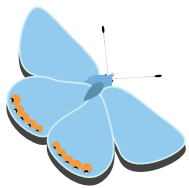

Our Butterfly Study Weekend provides an immersive experience with one and a half days of summer field trips led by expert lepidopterists and dedicated butterfly enthusiasts. Each day you will explore a variety of habitats for the opportunity to observe butterflies, dayflying moths and other insect pollinators; enjoy learning their behaviors and ecologies, “in the field.”

The scholarship is a gift from the Family of our founder, Idie Ulsh, and a way for WBA to hold true to our mission of raising appreciation of butterflies and other pollinators and how vital they are to our own futures – and that of the entire

Up to three Idie Ulsh Young Naturalist Scholarships for our annual Butterfly Study Weekend are available. The scholarship covers registration fees, lodging for two nights, Program Night meal, and round-trip mileage from home to the venue for a and an accompanying parent or guardian.

2026 WBA Annual Butterfly Study Weekend, Goldendale, Washington June 12-14.

Learn More Visit the Washington Butterfly Association Website

Washington Butterfly Association

<https://wabutterflyassoc.org>

